Stahlcon GmbH now offers you the opportunity to download all relevant certificates free of charge from our download centre. The information required for this purpose, i.e. heat number etc. will be continuously documented on delivery notes and invoices.

As of 1 May 2016, certificates will no longer be issued automatically.

We trust you will understand that in future there will be a charge of €15.00 per document for issuing individual certificates.

Instructions:

1. Please register once to access the certificate download area.
This is available at the following address: <https://stahlcon.de/en/registration-for-download-of-certificates/>
Once your account has been activated by our administrator, you are allowed unrestricted access to the documents.
2. Please enter your username and password to access the download area.
3. To help you make your choice, we have divided the download centre into different subject areas. Please use the search box when looking for the heat number, for example. The corresponding cross reference to the heat number can be found in our documents (delivery note & invoice).

If you have any questions, need assistance or are missing a certificate, please contact Dietmar Mettke.
